

Principles of Science at Bretherton Endowed

Science Vision

Science is good at Bretherton when children are inspired, inquisitive, and find answers through scientific enquiry.

Science is good when...

We find the answers to our questions.

We are excited and curious about what we are learning.

We know the scientific skills we are using.

We access learning in different ways, e.g. learning outside, through stories and illustrations, and technology.

We discover new things by ourselves, through trial and error.

We work practically and collaboratively to build skills for later life.
